

Cultivating History: Exploring Horticultural Practices of the Southern Gardener Proceedings of the Eleventh Conference on Restoring Southern Gardens and Landscapes
September 27-29, 2001, Old Salem, Winston-Salem, North Carolina

Contents

“Their garden was of moderate size, well laid off . . .”: Historic Southern Gardens in Letters, Journals, & Travel Accounts

Davyd Foard Hood

Well Wrought: Making Garden Tools from Iron and Steel

Stephen Mankowski

Practical Gardening: The Method of Proceeding

Terry Yemm

“Sprung from the Earth”: The Layout of the Common Garden

Rudy J. Favretti

The Archaeology of Slave Quarter Architecture and Landscape

Douglas Sanford

“Little Spots allow’d them”: Slave Gardens in the Eighteenth Century

Patricia Gibbs

Gumbo, the Three Sisters, and Food Production in Nineteenth-Century Slave Gardens

Leni Ashmore Sorensen

Rediscovering Gardening by the Moon

Sally K. Reeves

“Ecological Imperialism?” Southern Garden Pests and Pesticides, 1700-1832

Peter Hatch